JUST2TRADE, INC.
SEC Rule 606 Order Disclosure

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's client disclosure rule, SEC Rule 606, requires all broker/dealers that route orders in equity and option securities to make available quarterly reports that present a general overview of their routing practices. These reports must identify the significant venues to which the client orders were routed for execution during the applicable quarter and disclose the material aspects of the broker/dealer's relationship with such venues.

The report is divided into four sections: one for securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange and reported as a Network A eligible security; one for securities listed on the NASDAQ Stock Market; one for securities listed on the American Stock Exchange or regional exchanges and reported as a Network B eligible security; and one for exchange-listed options. For each section, this report identifies the venues most often selected by Just2Trade, Inc., sets forth the percentage of various types of orders routed to the venues, and discusses the material aspects of Just2Trade, Inc.'s relationship with the venues. The report may be viewed at www.just2trade.com.
